THE CARELESS KEEPERS DISCHARGED.

THEY ALLOWED TWO NEGROES TO ESCAPE FROM

THE PENITENTIARY-LAX METHODS

IN THE JAIL. As the result of the investigation made by them in the case of the escape of two prisoners from the County Penitentiary on Sunday the Commissioners of Charities and Correction yesterday dismissed Keepers McClafferty, Dunning and Ryan, who were responsible for the escape, and who had been suspended by Warden Hayes as soon as the escape was made known The two named first were in charge of the long term prison from which the two men got away while the keepers slept, and Ryan was in charge of the prisor yard. McClafferty falled to appear before the Com missioners to explain why he slept on duty, a facadmitted by Dunning. He was summoned to appear on Thursday, but his wife telephoned that he had gone to look for one of the escaped convicts in New York, and would appear at 2 p. m. But he failed to arrive, and did not appear yesterday at the adjourned flearing, although he had been seen by Warden Hayes at 5 p. m. on Thursday.

The Commissioners found that the escape was due to the gross neglect of duty and carelessness of the three keepers, and dated their discharge from May They also declared that the conduct of the keepers was largely due to the lax methods and im perfect way of giving instructions to the keepers, and directed Warden Hayes to see that the clothing of the prisoners and their cells were searched every day that the cell doors were examined after the prisoners were locked in, and that hourly rounds were made by the night keepers to see that all was secure. They will also provide a time register to show that the keepers do their duty. The Warden is to give detailed instructions to all the keepers as to their duties when they are appropriated.

they are appointed.
The Commissioners decided to offer a reward of pioo for the recapture of each of the escaped prisoners, George W. Walters and James Furman.

CLASS DAY AT THE POLYTECHNIC. A PLEASANT EVENING SPENT BY THE FRIENDS

OF THE MEN OF '93. students of the Polytechnic Institute and their friends filled Remsen Hall, at Court and Remsen sts., last evening, at the class day exercises of the class of '93 of that popular institution of learning. The order of dancing was sandwiched between the programme of the evening and statistics of the class.

The presiding officer of the evening was Richard
L. Russell, who is president and the treasurer of the dlass. An opening poetical prologue was spoker by W. M. Grosvenor, jr., the vice-president and secre tary of the class. Mr. Grosvenor also read the class poem, in which some of the saltent points in the undergraduate careers of his associates and himself were effectively delineated. The class history was told by C. E. Potts, '92. President Russell predicted the careers of the members of the class in the class prophecy. The class will was drawn up and read by F. H. Sanborn. Presentations to members of the Institute were made by H. T. MacConnell. Musi was furnished by a mandolin orchestra, and violit solos were played by E. A. Taucher and W. G. The many hits made by the speakers upon personal affairs greatly amused the audience.

The commencement exercises of the Polytechni Institute will be held on June 15. The following ar candidates for degrees on that occasion: For Bachelor of Arts-F. W. Deike, F. H. Sanborn; for Bachelor of Science-In chemistry, J. S. Wight, W. M. Grosvehor; in engineering, F. Prosser, R. L. Russell; for Electrical Engineer-H. T. Mcconnell, B. S. 192; T. J. Arms, B. S., 192; G. PLEASE LET THIS MAN SLEEP.

A novel attempt to get undisturbed rest has been made by a man living near Clinton and Warren sts. He has had a circular printed and malled to his neighbors, in which he addresses them as "Dear Folks," and asks them to refrain from making noise in the yards and from the back windows of their houses before noon every day. He says he refers to splitting wood, heating carpets, hammering at fences etc., and adds: "This is a big favor I ask of you. I know, but if granted it will be a perfect boon to me, for I know you do these things unthinkingly. not being aware of me or my hours of supposed sleep. In the big cities of New-York and Brooklyn there are quite a number of people who are employed at night and must sleep days. I am one o ployed at hight and must steep days. I am one of these unfortunates. I am easily woke up, and when awoke sometimes lay for hours awake. As my sleep is prematurely broken every day, you can see that my condition is not very enviable. I dislike very much to seemingly play the role of crank, and only write this letter through sheer necessity.

INDICTED FOR MURDER IN THE FIRST DEGREE.

The May Grand Jury yesterday indicted Edward K. George Phillips in Greenpoint May 13 while pur-chasing counterfeit money. He was arrested with his brother, Robert J. Hoerner, who called himself Robert Hall. The latter was not indicted. were arraigned in the Court of Sessions yesterday and Edward Hoerner pleaded not guilty to the indictment. His brother was then called and questioned in order to make sure that the right man answered to the indictment. Judge Moore told him that if he were really Robert Hoerner he was cutified to discharge, but adjourned the case until to-day for his identification by the policemen and detectives concerned in the arrest. The brothers came from Harrisburg, Penn., to Brooklyn on May 13, and in a restaurant at No. 29 Greenpointave, they met George Phillips by agreement. They became sus picious of him and when he tried to escape he was shot and died a day or two later.

CAUGHT PASSING COUNTERFEIT MONEY. Two Italians bought a pint of beer in a liquo shop at No. 238 Conover-st, on Thursday evening, and paid for it with a $5 silver certificate, getting $4 90 in change. The bill proved to be a counterfeit, and beer. A policeman arrested them, and yesterday morning he found two more similar counterfeit bilis in the neighborhood where they were arrested. The men, who were Autonio Burtoda, of No. 24 Unionst, and Frank Gerono, of No. 75 Hamilton ave., were turned over to the Federal authorities yesterday. Several of the counterfeits, of the series of 1886, have been passed in South Brooklyn recently.

TWO RICH COFFEE PLANTERS MISSING.

Inquiries were made at Police Headquarters yes young Central Americans, who came to this city two weeks ago with a number of compartons. They had boarded at No. 38 West Sixty-first-st., it was said, and were seeing the sights of New-York before going to visit the World's Fair at Chicago. Both young men were said to be coffee planters and well-to-do. On Wednesday right they were at a resort in Fourteenth-st., and were drinking champagne with strangers. They had not returned to their rooms is the boarding-house and their companions were alarmed for their safety, it was said. The police records were searched, but they contained no mention of the missing men. No alarm directing a police search was sent out yesterday, as it was thought the young men might return to their friesds after getting rid of some jewery and about $1,000 which they had with them.

THEY WANT W. A. CORNELL TO RESIGN.

OFFICERS OF THE 8TH REGIMENT OBJECT TO HIS WEARING THE UNIFORM OF A CAPTAIN-HIS

COMPLAINT AGAINST MAJOR CHAUNCEY. Coptain William A. Cornell was asked to resign com the 8th Regiment some time ago. As he did not comply with the request, charges were preferred against him so that the regiment might get rid of The charges were made by Major Henry Channey, Jr., and Colonel George D. Scott supported Major Channey in this action. Now Cornell has pref-rred charges against Major Channey because e thought that officer used language unbecoming an officer to him while the regiment was having a street drill recently. Cornell is the man who went to Chicago with the daughter of Police Captain Berghold. Miss Berg hold was subsequently found dead. Captain Berghold accused Cornell of causing his daughter's death, out a Chicago Coroner's Jury declared that she con

When these reports came out, Colonel Scott told Cornell that he would better resign. Cornell asked for more time and it was granted to him, Colonel Scott thinking that the officer would see the wisdom of getting out of his own accord. He delayed, however, and the charges were preferred against him.

When the regiment was having a street drill or May 25, Major Chauncey spoke sharply to Captain May 25, Major Chauncey spoke sharply to Capitain Cornell. Cornell declares that he used language which was unbecoming an officer and a gentleman. Cornell immediately left his company and told Major Chauncey to put another officer in command of it. This was done.

It is believed that Captain Cornell took this action because he felt bitterly toward Major Chauncey in consequence of the charges which had been preferred against him by that officer.

TAMMANY CANDIDATES OUT IN THE COLD.

SECRETARY CARLISLE GIVES A WASHINGTON

MAN A GOOD OFFICE IN THIS CITY. Local labor organizations who were backing somhalf dozen or so candidates for the position of Super intendent of Construction of the United States Ap-praiser's Warehouse were able to estimate the value placed upon their influence, now that the election s over, by the Democratic authorities in power in Washington. These labor organizations have been wholly ignored and all their candidates thrust coolly aside by Secretary Carlisle, who has appointed one Rouse to the place. Nobody in this city knows anything about Ronge except that he halls from Washington, where he had held a position on the National Library fielding construction under General Casey. The Tammany candidates, who had spent a lot of time and money in the pursuit of the place, are in anything but an amiable frame of mind at the sla in the face they get from Mr. Carlisle.

In making room for Rouse Secretary Carlisle's methods were extremely abrupt. His treatment of Michael J. Fenton, who had to be removed to his place to Rouse, has been severely criticised by Fenton's friends. The first intimation which Mr. Fenton got that his place was wanted was on May 25, when he received this telegram, after I o'clock p. m.

Fenton, Superintendent of Construction States Appraiser's Warehouse, 150 Chris United States Appraiser's Warehouse, 150 Chris-topherset, New York.
Your services are hereby discontinued from and after this date. Letter by mail.
J. G. CARLISLE, Secretary.

The letter with the notice of removal was received on May 31. It had been dated May 29. There was no charge put forward against Mr. Fenton, and nothing that even required an explanation. Fenton's bond was $20,000. He was appointed on February 9, 1892, but was not assigned to duty till March 23 following, when he secured bits bond. On Thursday morning Rouse appeared at the warehouse with his appointment in his pocket. He is assigned to duty at once and may file his bond at some time in the future. The position is worth $5 a day, sundays excepted.

CLASS DAY EXERCISES AT BARNARD COLLEGE.

The class of '93, the first to be graduated from Barnard College, held its class day exercises yester day afternoon, at the college, No. 343 Madison-ave, The puriors were tastefully decorated with streamers and festoons of blue and white. When the class laid taken their sents the exercises began with the rollcell. The bonds were sent on to the City Pank, but meanthine suit had been began to test their legality by ex-Mayor Joseph Naile, of Austin. through three courts and was finally decided in favor of the city. But meantime another suit was begun by the Austin Water and Light Company and the case is pending on appeal from the lower court. In view of this litigation, Mr. Morton said yesterday he had not taken the bonds from the National City Bank, but he had made no formal refusal. He considered that the bonds were his property if their validity was assured and when that was done he stood ready to take them. In case the city should break its contract, then he would consult his counsel as to a sait for damages. Mr. Morton has no knowledge of any intention of the city authorities to repudiate the contract, but it cannot be executed until the pend-ing litigation is decided. by the Austin Water and Light Company and the case is pending on appeal from the lower court.

WHITE PLAINS.

THE SENTENCE IS A LIGHT ONE. Judge Mills, in the criminal court at White Plaine resterday sentenced Ernest Kancher to one year it the Kings County Penitentlary for shooting William Moegling, a baker at South Mount Vernon, two month ago. Kancher worked for Moegling and was dis-charged. He entered the bakery and demanded to be taken back. Moegling refused to have anything be taken back. Moegling refused to have anything to do with him, and Kancher drew a tevolver out of his pocket and shot his former employer. The wound was a slight one and Moegling recovered from the effects of it. As soon as Kancher shot Moegling he ran out of the bakery and returned to his boarding house, where he attempted to kill himself by shooting himself in the head. His wound was also a slight McElmeel receives $1,000 a menth for removing it. Last month Commissioner of Public Works Cooper refused to audit McElmeel's bill, as he had not carried out his contract. On Wednesday night the Common Board between the Mayor and members of the Councit. Mayor Weller sent a communication to the Board, stating that he had cancelled McElmeel's contract and declared it forfelted. The Aldermen held that the Mayor had no power to cancel the contract without the consent of the Aldermen. A vote was taken, and the Mayor was put down by a full vote, the Republicans voting with the Democrats. Not one vote was cast in favor of the Mayor's communication.
